for carrying a Star of David banner. Over the last decade there has been a noticeable uptick in antisemitic rhetoric and incidents by left-wing groups targeting Jewish students and Jewish organizations on American college campuses. And the reemergence of the white nationalist movement in America, complete with Nazi slogans and imagery, has been reminiscent of the horrific fascist displays of the 1930s. Throughout Europe, Jews have been attacked by terrorists, and some have been murdered. Where is all this hatred coming from? Is there any significant difference between left-wing and right-wing antisemitism? What role has the anti-Zionist movement played? And what can be done to combat the latest manifestations of an ancient hatred? In a series of letters to an imagined college student and imagined colleague, both of whom are perplexed by this resurgence, acclaimed historian Deborah Lipstadt gives us her own superbly reasoned, brilliantly argued, and certain to be controversial responses to these troubling questions. Discover unique perspectives on the magic of life's journey with Llewellyn's 2018 Magical Almanac. Representing Australian Aboriginal Music and Dance 1930-1970 offers a rethinking of recent Australian music history. Amanda Harris presents accounts of Aboriginal music and dance by Aboriginal performers on public stages. Harris also historicizes the practices of non-Indigenous art music composers evoking Aboriginal music in their works, placing this in the context of emerging cultural institutions and policy frameworks. Centralizing auditory worlds and audio-visual evidence, Harris shows the direct relationship between the limits on Aboriginal people's mobility and non-Indigenous representations of Aboriginal culture. This book seeks to listen to Aboriginal accounts of disruption and continuation of Aboriginal cultural practices and features contributions from Aboriginal scholars Shannon Foster, Tiriki Onus and Nardi Simpson as personal interpretations of their family and community histories. Contextualizing recent music and dance practices in broader histories of policy, settler colonial structures, and postcolonizing efforts, the book offers a new lens on the development of Australian musical cultures. In diesem Buch erzählt Marlon Bundo von einem Tag aus seinem Leben. Marlon ist ein Kaninchen, das bei seinem Großvater Mike Pence, dem Vizepräsidenten der USA, lebt. Ein Buch, das die Themen Toleranz und Gerechtigkeit kindgerecht aufbereitet und sich für Vielfalt, Demokratie und die gleichgeschlechtliche Ehe einsetzt. Niedlich, witzig und liebevoll illustriert richtet es sich an jeden kleinen und großen Leser, der sich schon einmal "anders" gefühlt hat. The Basics of Public Budgeting and Financial Management brings budgetary theory and practice together, filling the void between the two that has existed in the field of budgeting and public finance. This book bridges the gap by providing students with applications and exercises that reinforce budgetary theory. These exercises are the key to ensuring that students leave the classroom with knowledge and marketable skills. Specifically, students will be exposed to basic budget and finance concepts, but more importantly they will complete assignments where they apply the information in various settings. For example: creating tax structures, conducting a financial management plan, risk assessments, cost benefit analysis, and so on. This handbook also shows students how to best utilize tools that allow them to visually display budgets and other budgetary data. Students will gain the solid foundation needed to begin work in a budget office. While the original purpose of the book is the same, the third edition of the book provides a few new thematic sections as well as homework questions and classroom assignments that reinforce the topical areas. The ancillary materials make the process very easy for an instructor to organize their lectures around thematic areas. The book is a must read for instructor's who are considering a course that introduces students to budgeting and finance and those who want student's to learn the basic components of budgeting and financial management. Brain function is under metabolic control, which in turn determines the equilibrium of homeostatic systems that affect neuronal and glial networks on the molecular, cellular, and systems levels. The collection of articles ranges from molecules and mechanisms involved in regulating homeostasis and neuronal excitability to therapeutic mechanisms tailored to restore homeostatic function. It also features neurological diseases and novel treatment approaches that are based on metabolic and homeostatic interventions. Together, the collection of articles outlines novel strategies to restore brain function in neurology and highlights limitations of conventional pharmacological approaches. We suggest that restoration of molecular and biochemical networks could lead to a new era of therapeutic opportunities. Die Heilige Schrift, nicht das Bild, galt bisher als das protestantische Hauptwort. Das Interesse am Bild wächst jedoch - im Einklang mit lebensweltlichen Entwicklungen ("Bilderflut") und kulturwissenschaftlichen Einsichten ("iconic turn") - auch in der Kirche, die sich durch ein intimes Verhältnis zur Schrift einen Namen gemacht hat. Wie verhält sich dieses Interesse des Protestantismus am Bild zur traditionellen Wertschätzung des Textes? In welchem Verhältnis stehen grundsätzlich äußere und innere Bilder, sprachliche und künstlerische Bilder zueinander? Und: Was bedeutet die (Wieder-)Entdeckung des Bildvermögens und der Einbildungskraft für die evangelische Religion, ihr "Schriftprinzip" und ihre Glaubenspraxis? Diesen Fragen gehen die Beiträge zum 1. Evangelischen Bildertag in Marburg 2018 nach. Mit Beiträgen von Hans-Martin Barth, Sigurd Bergmann, Reinhardt Brand, Thomas Erne, Ferdinand Fellmann, Markus Firchow, Jan Hermelink, Klaas Huizing, Joachim Knape, Malte Dominik Krüger, Joachim Kunstmann, Anna Niemeck, George Pattison, David Plüss, Anne Steinmeier, Alice Thaler-Battistini und Dirk Westerkamp. [Image and Text. Conference Proceedings of the "1. Evangelischer Bildertag" in Marburg, 2018] The Holy Scripture, not the image, has thus far been considered the benchmark of Protestantism. However - in accord with lifeworldly developments ("image flood") and insights of the cultural sciences ("iconic turn") - interest in the image is increasing, not least in the church, which has built a reputation for its intimate relation to Scripture. How does Protestantism's interest in the image relate to its traditionally high esteem of the text? What is the fundamental relationship of internal and external, linguistic and artistic images? And: What is the meaning of the rediscovery of the "capacity for the image" and the faculty of imagination for Protestant religion, its scriptural principle, and its practice of faith? The proceedings of the "1. Evangelischer Bildertag" (1st Protestant Day of the Image) pursue these questions. This e-book is a compilation of papers presented at the 5th Mechanical Engineering Research Day (MERD'18) - Kampus Teknologi UTeM, Melaka, Malaysia on 03 May 2018.
